Captain Errol Gonsalves, Managing Director of CP-Desk, says: “We value our customers and we take their trust in us very seriously. In fact, we developed CP-Vault based on customer input, and we have beta tested the solution with several key brokers and charterers already, with excellent results. CP-Desk is proud to offer this targeted solution that will both help our global customer base streamline these complex, time consuming processes and enable us to strengthen our position as a premier provider of charter party administration services.”

CP-Vault is being launched at a time when markets have dropped considerably, as evidenced by the Baltic Dry Index, which dropped nearly 60% in 2014. As Captain Gonsalves expresses: “It’s even more important to focus on your Charter Parties during poor markets. One can hardly afford claims or disputes due to insufficient or faulty documentation during an economically challenging market.”

CP-Vault is available for free trial.

The free trial can be utilized for historic charter parties or for new and upcoming ones. For more information on CP-Vault and to sign up for the free trials, please visit the CP-Desk website at www.cp-desk.com.
